SUPPLEMENTARY MATERIALS

Selection of the questions/items addressed to participants

In-service teachers:

- What kinds of distance learning did you provide?
- What were the most difficult problems for you when you started to pursue distance teaching? What was not a problem for you during the distance teaching?
- Which competencies did you lack the most when introducing distance teaching?
- What did you consider to be the sources of difficulties from the point of view of the material background when introducing distance teaching?
- How long did it take for the form of remote education to be organised to a satisfactory degree from all sides?
- What attitude did you have towards the use of remote education in our schools before the outbreak of the "corona crisis"?
- On basis of your experience, list the three biggest shortcomings and three greatest advantages of distance learning.
- Distance teaching suits me better than face-to-face teaching, because …
- During distance teaching, I missed the most …
- Compare the length of your preparation for a regular lesson and a distance teaching lesson.
- How many hours a day do you think a teacher is able to teach online?
- How many online lessons per week do you think are optimal for teaching pupils and students at different levels of study?
- What kind of teaching methods did you most often use during distance teaching?

Pre-service teachers:

- What kinds of distance learning did your teachers provide?
- What were the most difficult problems for you when you started to pursue distance learning? What was not a problem for you during the distance learning?
- Which competencies did you lack the most when introducing distance learning?
- What did you consider to be the sources of difficulties from the point of view of the material background when introducing distance learning?
- How long did it take for the form of remote education to be organised to a satisfactory degree from all sides?
- What attitude did you have towards the use of remote education in our schools before the outbreak of the "corona crisis"?
- On basis of your experience, list the three biggest shortcomings and three greatest advantages of distance learning.
- Distance learning suits me better than face-to-face learning, because …
- During distance learning, I missed the most …
- Compare the length of your preparation for a regular lesson and a lesson taught remotely.
- How many hours a day do you think a teacher is able to teach online?
• How many online lessons per week do you think are optimal for teaching pupils and students at different levels of study?
• What kind of teaching methods did your teacher most often use during distance lessons?

Parents:
• What kinds of distance learning did your children’s teachers apply?
• In what role did the corona crisis hit you?
• What was your role in the distance learning of your children?
• What were the most difficult problems for you when your children started distance learning? What was not a problem for you during the distance learning?
• Which competencies were most lacking in helping your child with distance learning?
• What did you consider to be the sources of difficulties from the point of view of the material background during distance learning?
• How long did it take for the form of remote education to be organised to a satisfactory degree from all sides?
• What attitude did you have towards the use of remote education in our schools before the outbreak of the “corona crisis”?
• Based on your child’s experience, list the three biggest shortcomings and three greatest advantages of distance learning.
• Distance learning suits my children more than face-to-face teaching, because …
• During distance learning, I missed the most …
• My child made progress in the following areas during distance learning … I noted a regression in the following areas …
• Compare the length of your preparation for a regular lesson and a lesson taught remotely.
• How many lessons a day do you think a teacher is able to teach online?
• How many online lessons per week do you think are optimal for teaching pupils and students at different levels of study?
• How many hours a day do you think should a parent spend with the child preparing for online classes?
• What kind of teaching methods did your children’s teachers most often use during distance lessons?
etc.